

Every Friday we feature one of the garments from the magazine in a post about styling. We suggest different ways to wear the garment in question using mock-ups from Polyvore. We encourage readers to tell us what they think about these outfits via our Facebook page or Twitter, and if folks want to make their own outfits, please tweet them at us with the hashtag #twiststyle. You can find all of the Style Friday posts here.

Hello knitters,

Carly here- bloglady and (self proclaimed) style maven. Kate and I have been talking about bringing more fashion-based fun to this here blog, and so we would like to introduce you to a new feature- Twist Style Fridays! Each week, we will bring you a post about taking these lovely patterns off your blocking boards, out of your moth-proof closets, off of your dress forms, and out into the world- you know, like clothes. We may talk about outfits, accessories, shoes (my vice), colors, and so much more.

The last time I wrote about styling, I encouraged you all to play with Polyvore (an online styling tool/playground), and tweet your creations (#twiststyle)! I am reiterating that request now. We want to see your ideas!! Starting with, Amanda Keep's lovely ruffled cardigan, Edgehill.

My idea for wearing this one isn't wildly different from the one above- still casual and girly. But I think a skirt with a little more pouf would really bring out that lovely arched hemline, and echo the volume of the ruffles.

So, how would you wear your Edgehill?
