

Rosemary Hill has contributed four impeccable patterns to Twist Collective. Each of them is elegant, airy, and feminine. You can find out more about Rosemary here! Follow all of the Five for five interview series here!

(Manderley, Violet Beribboned Choker, Snow Flurries Wrap, Lalou)

1. Why are you a designer?

Because I have never been able to knit a pattern without altering it in some way. I gave up fighting and embrace it now.

2. Where do you get your inspiration for designs from?

From everything around me! Right now that's the high desert, but I get tons of inspiration from the city too. There's so much to see!

3. What is your worst knitting habit?

When I'm knitting on a project, I always want to be doing the next one I'm designing in my head. When I get to that one, I'm already bored with it. I need to be able to knit at warp speed.

4. If you weren't a designer, what do you think you'd be doing with all the extra time you'd have?

Designing obsessively in a different medium!

5. Finish this sentence: If everyone knew how to knit...

there would never be enough wool to go around.