

For readers who enjoyed the CSA article in the winter issue, or Barbara Parry's Lambing story in the current issue, there's a treat for you at Susan Gibb's website for her Martha's Vineyard Fiber Farm. A Lambcam. You can find more details here on MVFF website. Susan says that even though the camera is turned on all the time, you won't be able to see anything when it's dark outside. Susan's farm is in the Eastern time zone, GMT-5.

So when it's dark outside, take a look at this fun sheep thing:

Extreme LED Sheep:

D2FX9rviEhw|448|272|0